TRANSMISSION LINE POSSIBLE

TWO WESTINGHOUSE MEN SUBMIT FIGURES TO SHOW THAT A TRANSMISSION LINE FROM PORTVILLE TO SMITHPORT IS ADVISABLE

There were two men from the Westinghouse Electric Company, Mr. C. F. Harris and G. W. Rauso of Buffalo here on Tuesday to meet some of our prominent business men to discuss the probability of a transmission line to connect on from the Portville unit extending to Eldred down through Coryville, Farmers Valley to Smithport, thus giving everyone that lives in this vicinity a chance to have juice in their home along this line. The Westinghouse people submitted plans and figures to show whereby they could wire through transmission with all necessary equipments including all meters and transformers, dropping off stations at Eldred and so on down to Smithport for much less than ever has been expected.

GALETON HERE NEXT SUNDAY WITH STRONG TEAM

The Galeton base ball team will cross bats with the home team on the fair grounds at 3 o'clock next Sunday, May 15. Galeton has a strong team in the field this year and our boys will have to hurry right along in order to put over a win. The Smithport team will pick out as soon as possible and between East Smithport they should get one good outfit. Gallagher began his working out process Tuesday night and he will greatly strengthen the club with his playing. The Smithport band will give a concert on the grounds Sunday.

THE SWISS CHEESE FACTORY

Mr. Gilligan was interviewed in regard to the new cheese factory as to when it would be put into operation Monday and he said just as soon as they receive two large copper kettles that have been shipped for some time. Everything is in readiness to begin operations now—the road leading around the factory has been put in shape and it is only a question of a little time before they can start.

ARRESTED IN BUFFALO

County Detective Jack Allison journeyed to Buffalo this week and brought back to Smithport jail one W. H. Burlingham who is charged with contempt of court in breaking agreement of paying his wife $10 a week. He is now in arrears some $300. His wife lives in Bradford.

Leonard Hoagarth in Cohan Production

The following clipping was taken from the Chicago Daily Tribune of May 1:

Cohan's Grand: "The Meanest Man in the World" a comedy by Augustin MacHugh, telling about a young lawyer and a pretty woman in commercial troubles. Playing it tomorrow night will be Leo Donnelley, Leonard Doyle, Frank M. Thomas, Miss Marion Coakley, Miss Ruth Donnelley, Ralph Siperley, Miss Eda Von Buelow, John T. Doyle, Miss Leona Hoagarth, Howard Boulden, Peter Raymond, and Hugh Cameron. Mr. Thomas has the role played for a time in New York by Mr. Cohan. It is one of Mr. Cohan's productions.

Miss Hoagarth, or Mrs. Leonard Doyle as she has been married for several years, is one of Smithport's most gifted daughters. Possessing considerable talent and a charming personality she has forged steadily ahead since her entrance into the dramatic profession.

The plays in which she has acted in their order are as follows: "Every Woman" next "Experience," with May Irvin in "The Water is Fine," Selwyn production, "The Challenge," with Lionel Barrymore in "The Letter of the Law" and the last "The Meanest Man in the World." Miss Hoagarth's husband, Mr. Leonard Doyle, a promising young actor is in the same company with her this season.

LEIGH SMITH HAD AUTO ACCIDENT

While Leigh Smith was returning from Smithport with a Ford truck Sunday, he narrowly escaped from being seriously hurt as his car all of a sudden became unmanageable, starting toward the side of the road near the Crossmire farm, the steering gear giving out completely with the result that the car tipped over at the side of the road and threw its occupants out. Leigh Smith's younger brother, Stanley, was riding with him at the time of the accident. Neither one was hurt to speak of but received a good shaking up. The car is the property of Worth Smith, and was returning with a load of empty milk bottles of which a large number were broken. The car was smashed up quite a bit but with a few new parts and a new wheel it will again be on the road.

WILLIAM H. HOWE OF THIS PLACE GIVEN DANCING NUMBER

William H. Howe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Howe of East Smithport, who was a graduate of Smithport High School, has been selected as one of the dancing girls in the Penn State Thespian performance, "Pompompous I." The play is an original musical comedy, the students having written almost the entire production. Although the parts are being taken by men, the Thespians promise to bring envy to the hearts of the girls when the dancing girls chorus makes its appearance. The play will be given as one of the features of Commencement Week at Penn State. Mr. Howe will also give a specialty dance in the course of the performance. He is a Junior Mechanical Engineer, and a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

THE PARENTI CAR GAVE DEMONSTRATION

The Parenti automobile Motor Factory Company of Buffalo, N. Y., was in town Sunday and Monday and gave some very interesting demonstrations with the Parenti car which were most satisfactory to a great many who had the opportunity of taking a ride in it. The Parenti car has quite a different body than most cars and is rather square shaped and looks to be low to the ground, however it is only at a first glance that one believes this. After taking a spin you will find that the Parenti automobile is a powerful machine and put together to stay; and no matter what the roads may be the car will come through somewhere. The car was even run on the railroad track over ties and over rails and in mud holes to prove beyond a doubt that it is a wonderful machine for power. It has an air-cool motor, and it stays that way all day long no matter how much you drive. All parts of this car are interchangeable and are as follows: It has 10 bearing blocks, 6 spring hanger bushings, 6 spring clamps, 10 bearing block pins, 2 front wheel hangers, 2 front wheel spindles, 20 hanger bushings, 2 spindle pins, 2 rear wheel hangers, rear wheel bar bushings, 2 rear wheel drive shafts, 3 spring hanger nuts, 2 steering rod yokes, 2 steering rods, 16 able wheel spacers, 16 spacer bushings, 2 universal drive shafts and plywood frame panels that are lighter than steel. It is composed of a steering device far different than any other machine. It has a double control irreversible gear. For instance, if you should break one rod leading to the steering gear you would still be supplied with the other rod and be just as safe with the one as rod with both. The Parenti automobile is made in Buffalo, N. Y., on Kensington and Northumberland avenues where the company has a large area of land ready to extend to all of the business that it is capable of handling in the next year. They have 10,000 feet of floor space at present, and orders enough taken to last until the year 1922 without taking another step.

MANY WOMEN DRAWN FOR JURY DUTY

Sheriff Has Served Forty Ladies to Come to Smithport on the First Monday in June.

On the jury lists drawn for the regular term of criminal court to be held here the first Monday in June appear the names of many women. On the list for the grand jury are nine women and on the petit jury sheet are the names of 22 of the fair sex. The laws favor the women in one particular, as they are not obliged to serve on juries unless they desire to do so, but the men are obliged to go unless illness prevents. However, the women must request the court to excuse them before they can be dismissed.

Two women of Bradford are among the number drawn for the grand jury. They are Minnie E. Jackson of No. 114 Barbours street and Anna A. Milligan of No. 110 Jackson avenue. On the petit list are the names of Mrs. Carrie Hall, 210 South avenue; Julia Schwab, 15 High street; Minnie H. Burns, 17 Moorehouse place; Mary E. Langworthy, 87 High street; Mrs. Christiana Freemyer, 40 Pleasant street, and Mrs. Irene Weaver, 22 Williams street.

Other women of this vicinity who have been summoned for grand jury duty are: Rena Allen, Edna M. Roy, Nina R. Squires of Port Allegany; Ruth Slingerland, Red Rock; Berda Nelson, Bonnie Hatchius of Mt. Jewett, and Tillie M. Lawrence of Eldred.

For petit jury duty: Mrs. C. E. Bolles, Duke Center; Mabel Edson, Ina Christman of Foster township. Among the men who have been served with notice for grand jury duty are: F. W. Dana, John E. Elwood, R. B. McHenry, Hugh Nelson, C. M. Stewart, Walter Roberts, all of Bradford. Those selected for petit jury include M. J. Donohue, A. E. Guy, C. F. Olmstead, F. H. Reidy, A. J. Douglass, W. R. Leopold, P. F. McCoy, J. L. Lindsey of Bradford; Guy B. Wilcox of Bradford township.

FOREST TREES ARE BEING PLANTED

Harrisburg, Pa., May 10.—More than 3,150 young forest trees were planted on private lands in McKean county this spring, according to a report issued today by Clifford Pinchot, the State's Chief Forester. Trees were supplied without cost to three planters in that county by the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry.

Throughout the State, more than 3,000,000 seedlings were set out by 919 private land owners. There has been a big increase this spring, over 1920, in the number of seedlings planted and in the total number of land owners who set out the trees. In 1920, there were 660 private planters who set out 2,709,000 seedlings in the State.

The largest number of seedlings, 231,653, were planted in Indiana county where there were 21 planting operations. Cambria county was second with 172,338; Lackawanna was third with 160,501. The largest number of planting operations were conducted in Allegany county, where 65 planters set out 87,182 young forest trees.

BIDS RECEIVED

Bids were open at Harrisburg Tuesday on the State road for highway leading from Smithport to Mt. Jewett, Pa., a distance of 6 miles. The highway department received the following bids: Cohen & Company, $380,000; Orwiler $382,000; Carey, Campbell Company $386,000. It is not known as to whether these bids will be accepted or not as The Miner goes to press.

FOUR DAYS OF COURT.

There will be four days of court beginning week of May 16, before Judge Bouton as follows: May 16, Naturalization Court; May 17, License Court; May 18 Argument Court and May 19, Divorce Court.

—Do not forget the Big Carnival which starts on May 24.

AMERICAN LEGION CARNIVAL MAY 24

THE GRAND CARNIVAL UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE AMERICAN LEGION WILL BE HELD AT THE LYCEUM HALL ONE NIGHT, TUESDAY, MAY 24.

The American Legion Carnival will prove undoubtedly one of the greatest attractions that has appeared in Smithport in a number of years and will be held at the Lyceum on the night of Tuesday, May 24. One of the largest and most spectacular parades that has ever been here in many years will take place about 4:15 on this day. The business men with their usual public spirit have faithfully promised to prepare floats and get together other forms of amusement, and the committee in charge are arranging for historical effects on this great day.

You will see George Washington, Napoleon Bonaparte, the man of destiny, Lincoln, Grant, William Penn negotiating with the Indians, the Red Cross workers and many other novel and amusing sights. There will be at the Big Carnival a Japanese Tea room. This is a big attraction. Don't fail to see the "Dugout" at the Carnival—that alone will be worth the price. Also the "Flower Song" under the personal direction of Mrs. R. C. Sasse, will be most interesting. Miss Ruth Walker's Spanish dancers will be there to entertain you. There will be Little Lord Fauntleroy in his latest musical number. Hear the Sextette composed of some of Smithport's best. Miss Mae Choate and her band of fairies will be a grand feature for the kids as well as grown ups. There will be represented "The Four Seasons" by Smithport's fairest daughters and a real Hula, Hula dancer to help entertain you. The milk maids are all good singers which will be one of the pleasing parts of the Carnival. Farmer Hoskin and wife from Reubensville will attend this big show, bringing their large family of young ones. Sidney Burdick is listed among the troupe in vaudeville as accompanist.

So bring the children to see the performing bear and many other interesting amusements that will please you—do not forget the time 4:15 p. m. Tuesday, May 24. Decorate your car and join the crowd and boost the American Legion Carnival parade.

TWO MORE DOGS SHOT.
Two more dogs were shot at Sizer's near Emporium by State Game Protector John B. Ross last week so the Miner was informed. It is the intention of the Game Protectors to do away with this evil just as soon as the law can be enforced. The ones who are guilty of allowing dogs to run deer at this time of year are surely making a sad mistake, as deer this time of year are in fold and in dire need of all the protection that can possibly be given to them. Keep up the good work.

Attorney C. W. Shattuck, Jake McBride and George Conklin of Olean left for the Adirondacks for a three weeks' outing, to fish and repair their camp there which is located on Twitchell Lake. They are just in time for the black flies and mosquitoes.

STATE POLICE ARE DOING GOOD WORK

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—Troopers of the Pennsylvania State Police arrested more than 800 for various offenses during March, and recovered stolen property worth $91,432.44, according to a statement issued by Major Lynn G. Adams, the Superintendent. Last month the police made 142 more arrests than during February, and the stolen property recovered in March surpassed the figures for February by almost $57,000.

The Lancaster Troop made 217 arrests last month, leading the other four troops by a wide margin. Pottsville troopers collected stolen property valued at $65,000, and the five troops in the state recovered stolen motor cars worth about $25,000.

BEWARE OF HIM!

He dresses well, talks smoothly and leaves a trail of bad investments. We mean the "get-rich-quick" promoter who would trade your Liberty Bonds, or sell you securities of doubtful worth.

All large oil companies have men of experience watching every development, whether in Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, or any locality, and the lands having reasonable prospects are quickly taken by these larger companies.

We advise making a very thorough examination before buying from persons offering stocks of oil companies located in distant places; statistics show that less than 20 per cent. of these companies have resources equal to the amount of stock offered for sale.

MAYOR KITT'S HAS FREEDOM

INDICTMENT QUASHED BECAUSE WOMEN WERE ON JURY.

Erie, May 10.—Mayor Miles H. Kitts was freed Monday morning when Judge Joseph Bouton of Smithport, McKean county, quashed the indictment against him. The indictment had been returned by the Grand Jury in February charging him with failure to carry out the oath of office. With the quashing of the Kitt's indictment motions to quash 39 others returned by the same Grand Jury were made. These will be acted upon later in the week.

One of the points brought out by the court in quashing the indictment was that Kitts was indicted by a jury composed of men and women, according to the recent decision by the Supreme Court a man must be tried by a jury of men.

This decision affected the case of Fred Maxwell and Eddie Williams, who were to go on trial for the murder of George Maurer. Their attorney Lytle F. Perry, asked for a continuance and is planning to demand that the case be thrown out as women were also on the jury which indicted these men.

In case the present indictment is withdrawn the two will be re-arrested and re-indicted, the district attorney's office stated.

MISTOOK HENRY FORD.

One of our leading ladies, was making a rather hurried call in Masser's Hardware store Monday and after making a purchase made for the door and headed for Henry Ford and was about to use the self starter, when she discovered that she was in the wrong church. Her Chevrolet was standing right side up in front of the barber shop of Mr. Gaskin.

NEAR EAST RELIEF WORK

U. S. A. sailors playing Santa Claus to children in Near East Relief Tubercular Hospital, Constantinople

The Near East Relief Work is steadily being pushed to aid the starving Armenians.

Learned men tell us that in Latin the word "Editor" means something "to eat." In the United States its meaning is altogether different. It means to scratch around like blazes to get something to eat.

The kickers and croakers have no place in Smethport with the push and progressiveness of our town. The man who opposes needed public improvements and stands in the way of progress is not a good citizen.

Young Bellamy Held For Trial

Boy Who Confessed Setting Fischer and McConnell Fires Will Be Taken to Smethport to Await Disposition of Case by Judge Bouton—Youth Very Much Depressed

JUVENILE COURT CASE

Youthful Alleged Firebug Waives a Hearing

George Bellamy the fifteen year old boy who was arrested Tuesday evening at the scene of the fire at L. A. Fischer & Company's feed mill, and who later confessed setting the mill on fire in the A. P. McConnell feed mill recently, waived hearing through his attorney, J. A. Fitzgibbon yesterday afternoon and is being held in the local jail.

No Bail Is Set

No bail has been set, as it is understood that this is a matter which will be decided upon later by Judge Bouton. Police officials last night stated that the boy would be held for trial at the next term of juvenile court. He will be taken to Smethport in a few days.

The boy remained uncommunicative in his quarters in the woman's department of the jail yesterday, not seeming inclined to talk about the fire. While acknowledging his guilt in connection with starting the two fires mentioned above, Bellamy denied any knowledge of how the fire which partially destroyed the Smith Brothers feed mill on Harbour street a few months ago was started, and he also stated he was not in any way responsible for the first fire in the McConnell feed mill or the Goodman storehouse recently.

Boy Seems Depressed

It is understood that the boy lived with his grandmother on Davis street, his mother being dead. Although not normal mentally, Bellamy seems to realize the seriousness of his offense and has been depressed in spirit ever since his arrest. He does not attempt to explain his reason for starting the two fires.

The boy is well developed physically, and of average height for his age. He has rather light hair. He appears to be of a nervous disposition—Bradford Era.

Olean Man Nearing Perfection Of Perpetual Motion Machine

H. C. Furniss of No. 313 Laurel avenue, formerly master mechanic of the W. N. Y. & P. Traction Company, has for the past several months devoted practically all of his time to the invention of a perpetual motion machine and has just recently been granted by the U. S. Patent office at Washington, D. C., protective rights until his machine is perfected.

The machine, the fruit of the inventor's brain, stands about three feet in height and is propelled by its own energy without the aid of any foreign power. The one great obstacle, inventors of perpetual motion machines have had to contend with, has been overcome by Mr. Furniss by eliminating all friction. The model is arranged so that a wheel, 24 inches in diameter, is kept in motion by 23 cast iron balls two and one-half inches large, each one weighing 21 pounds, five ounces. These are run on rails from elevators which are lifted by mechanism connecting the wheel and the elevators each ball insuring a large amount of surplus power keeping the machine in continual motion. The machine has been tested by the inventor for lifting power and lifted 1,700 lbs. about three inches from the floor. It can be adjusted for speed.

Machines can be made to use balls ranging in size from 2 to 24 inches, a twelve inch ball weighing 237 pounds thereby giving more gravity. All that is lacking to perfect the machine is to time the balls as they leave the elevator. Mr. Furniss stated that it would be accomplished in a short time.

The machine has been viewed by several mechanical engineers of the city and all have stated that there is no reason why the invention should not be a success.

Mr. Furniss states that he expects to manufacture a machine which can be attached to a generator and will enable one to furnish heat and light for the home and one that can be used for pumping purposes, the present machine having a twenty-two foot lift through a six inch pipe or vice versa.

He also states that he will make a machine which will be attached to a generator and placed at four or five mile intervals on an electric railway and used as sub-stations, doing away with high tension work, using the trolley wire to convey the current.

Mr. Furniss stated that he would continue to reside in Olean, should he find any one interested in his invention and the machine would be a financial asset to the city and monopoly to the man interested. If no one can be interested here he expects to locate elsewhere, as he claims that all that is necessary is time and money to perfect the invention.—[Olean Herald.

TWO THROWN FROM AN AUTO IN HOSPITAL

Quartet Taking Early Morning Spin Meet with Accident at Corner of Jackson and Kendall Avenues

Resident of Seward Avenue were awakened on Tuesday morning by loud moaning which issued from the tips of a Bradford young man, who had been thrown from a racing car as the vehicle slipped over the curb at the intersection of Jackson and Kendall avenues. The occupants of the car were two women and two men. It is said, and one of the women and one of the men were thrown from the car, it is claimed as the car slid and slipped over the curb. These two were hurt.

The car did not turn over, but proceeded back on to the pavement right side up and the two who were spilled out were picked up. The man who was ditched seemed stunned, but he and the woman, who had her ankle hurt, were taken home in the car. They are now at the Bradford hospital, so it is said. The owner of the car and the other occupant escaped uninjured.

Help was offered the party, but they said they needed none.—[Bradford Era.

BROUGHT BACK FROM FRANCE

Body of Craig Green Arrived At Hoboken for Burial

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green have received a message from headquarters that the body of their son, Craig, had arrived at the pier at Hoboken, N. J., and will be forwarded to his home at this place as soon as the necessary arrangements can be completed.

Port Allegany will accord the memory of this brave young hero every honor possible to bestow. The Frank Hart Post of the American Legion are planning on holding a military service at the Presbyterian church with Rev. A. B. French officiating, with interment in the family lot at Fairview.

Greg was born at Port Allegany, November 30, 1888 and was a noble young American, honest and industrious and numbered his friends among all who knew him. A real loss to his family, friends and the entire community.

The future looked bright to Greg and although he loved life he valued liberty and the honor of his country more, and willingly gave himself that right might prevail.

He was only at Camp Lee a short time when he was sent to France and soon took his part at the front winning much credit by his faithfulness to duty, leaving to us all a memory that we may ever honor and revere. Greg made the supreme sacrifice while in one of the fiercest battles at the front, Thursday, October 31, 1918.

He was on duty with Co. A. of the 302 Machine Gun Battalion of the A. E. F.

"IF THIS BE TREASON"

There Are Many Signs That Real Patriotism Reigns in America

"One country, one language, one flag."

That is what we have been teaching the children in our public schools as a stimulus to patriotism, loyalty and national unity. We had supposed the sentiment universally revered, yet it is beginning to look as if we might have to apologize for it. The experience of Commander Ketchum of the Grand Army, the great American mass meeting in Madison Square Garden at which General Pershing spoke, the All-American day which took place with appropriate exercises in Philadelphia—all these are signs that Americanism is assailed by disintegrating influences.

God help us if the time ever comes when it will be necessary to apologize to racial minorities for proclaiming the doctrine of "one country, one language, one flag." If the time ever comes when some patriotic speaker, preaching "America Only," will have to add, in the words of Patrick Henry, "If this be treason, make the most of it."

Erie, Pa., May 6.—Eddie "Slim" Williams and Fred "Devil" Maxwell, negroes went on trial in criminal court Monday, before Judge Rossetter, to answer for the murder of George Maurer, night watchman of the Griswold Manufacturing plant, who was killed on duty during the morning of March 12.

The two men were indicted by the grand jury on evidence furnished by Harry Fox and Arthur Howard, both of whom told the police they were in on a frame-up to rob the plant, but had backed down at the last moment. Fox says he was paid $10 to keep still but when he was arrested on suspicion he thought liberty was too sweet, and turned informer.

Marmon Price Reduction

The Talk of the Week!

Drop from $5000 to $3985 creates a nation-wide discussion of fine car values. Marmon 34 now on 1922 price basis

LAST Monday morning the famous Marmon 34 quadrupled its appeal among discriminating motorists. Thousands of people, hitherto anxious to own a Marmon 34, suddenly found it within their reach.

Based on 1922 prices, the reduction has proved an irresistible appeal to men who understand values. Particularly when one obtains the identical $5000 Marmon 34, without the slightest cheapening. All the extra equipment is included. This $3985 car—improved and refined—is the finest Marmon ever built. Never in recent years has there been such an amazing situation nor such an opportunity to obtain a deluxe car at a comparable price.

It simply puts the Marmon 34 into a class of its own. No car at $3985 can compare with the Marmon in design and construction. Its performance, its style, all its superiorities, give it a distinct position.

The announcement of 1922 prices NOW has brought instant response. So there is no need to warn you that you should place your order early so as to insure prompt delivery.

COURTESY TO PERU

Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has favorably reported a resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to represent the United States in Peru. The legislation is in line with the determination of the Republic Administration to foster in every proper way friendly relations between the United States and the Latin American republics.

CHARGE TO MR. MCADOO

It is reported that Congress will have to appropriate in the near future $400,000,000 to pay further claims growing out of government operation of the railroads. That sum brings the total cost of the 28 months of Federal control up to about $2,000,000,000. Yet there are some among us who would like to see the railroads owned and permanently operated by the Government.

RETURNING RADICALS

One thing that has given our industrial centers an aspect of great unemployment is the large number of laborers whose proper place is on the farm. They flocked to the cities when wages were high and work was plentiful and now find themselves without employment. It is true that work has been very slack, but not so bad as the numbers of idle men in the cities would indicate. Happily they are finding their way back to the farms, and a normal distribution of man power throughout the country is becoming apparent.

WEEKS WANTS 183,000

The House subcommittee that has been considering the Army appropriation bill has decided upon an army of 166,000 instead of 156,000 as agreed upon by the last Congress. The total amount carried by the measure is $330,000,000 which is $15,000,000 less than the total of the bill that the former President subjected to a pocket veto. It is understood that the present strength of the Army is 255,000. Secretary Weeks is said to have urged a provision for 183,000, and the number determined upon by the House committee is in the nature of a compromise with him. Of course amendments in the Senate may add to that figure.

CUMMINS FOR REGIONAL BOARDS

Washington, D. C. May 5. (Special correspondence) Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, the Chairman of the Senate Interstate Committee, is of the opinion that regional boards should be established to deal with controversies between the railroads and their employees. Under the recent decision of the Railroad Labor Board at Chicago, roads are given until July 1st to reach agreements with their employees as to rules of employment. Senator Cummins hopes that those conferences will find a solution in each case but, he feels that the differences which may result should be handled by regional boards so as to relieve the calendar of the Chicago Board.

FREE TRADE AMERICA

Congressman Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, brought out some interesting facts in the discussion preceding the passage of the emergency tariff bill. Last year the United States collected $325,527,000 in duties on imports valued at more than $5,000,000,000. That sum represented $3.15 per capita. But Canada in the same time collected imports duties at the rate of $19.50 per capita, and Great Britain collected $18.21 per capita. Yet the United States has the reputation of being the great protective nation. Furthermore, according to Mr. Fordney's figures, Japan collected an average ad valorem import duty last year of 17.64 per cent, while our own average duty under the present free-trade law was only 6 per cent. It is upon such unanswerable arguments as those that the Republicans base their insistence for higher protective duties.

PERILS OF IMMIGRATION

In urging upon Congress the enactment of legislation restricting for the present immigration from the Old World, Secretary Hughes has boldly championed American rights and interests. To throw open wide our gates to the tide of European immigration would expose the nation, without reason, to grave peril. As the Secretary of State has pointed out in memoranda recently submitted to Congress, European countries today are ready, if the opportunity offers, to rid themselves of vast numbers of their most undesirable citizens through the simple expedient of packing them off to America, that ever-ready haven of refuge for the oppressed and weary. Especially is this true of eastern and southeastern Europe, where the hand of war fell with results so devastating. Thousands in Asia Minor and the Russian Caucasus also are waiting, as soon as the signal is given, to take ship for the United States. Immigrants from these regions says Secretary Hughes, would, in general, make undesirable material for future citizens of the United States. They would become a liability to America rather than an asset; their presence within our borders would lower the standard of our citizenship instead of making new contributions to our national strength.

For these unhappy peoples we have and shall continue to have the most genuine sympathy. But the primary duty of our Government is its duty to the American people; nor is ours the responsibility of caring for the human driftwood which is tossed hither and thither, over the wide areas of war-torn Europe and Western Asia. We need constructive immigration, the kind which is easily assimilated; in self-defense we must decline to welcome immigrants who, in the words of Mr. Hughes, "cannot be regarded as desirable population for any country." Of these applicants for admission to American shores, moreover, a considerable proportion are probably infected with the virus of Bolshevism, and would become willing agents in working for worldwide social revolution. We are already tolerably well supplied with this kind of double-faced citizenry. Our national household needs fewer Bolsheviks and revolutionaries, rather than more.

Secretary Hughes's recommendations deserves the prompt and respectful consideration of Congress. The Secretary of State has not been afraid to call a spade a spade. Overseas immigrations to the United States, unless restricted for the present within moderate limits, threatens the health and stability of American life. A recognition of this truth should impel Congress, by appropriate legislation, to put a speedy curb upon the flow of immigration to American ports. [Boston Transcript.]

FOUNTS OF AMERICANISM

Washington, May 11.—"As an effective agency for the perpetuation and development of a spirit of true patriotism, the Society of Daughters of the American Revolution is unsurpassed," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "In that organization will be found much of the purest of American blood flowing through hearts that are justly thrilled by pride over ancestral achievements. Not only in the annual conventions of the National organization but in all the frequent meetings of local chapters, are revived and repeated the countless stories of individual valor, suffering and self sacrifice by means of which a small band of patriots met successfully the assaults of well trained armies of a despotic sovereign, aided by large numbers of colonists who for various reasons remained loyal to the crown. The D. A. R. is the most active gatherer of new historical data covering the Revolutionary period and is doing a valuable work which would otherwise be left undone. In its halls the daughters of the Union and of the Confederacy meet on a common level, all working to promote the welfare of their common country.

"Other patriotic organizations, among them the American Legion, are rendering important service in preaching the doctrines of unadulterated Americanism. Quite likely, for a time, the attention of organizations of veterans of the World War will be centered upon subjects of peculiar interest to themselves, but as time removes these special subjects from constant attention a larger field will be found for their activity in conducting patriotic work along lines of Americanization so much needed in our cosmopolitan citizenship. All these organizations have a highly useful work to perform and they deserve the encouragement and help of all good citizens.

"It has been fortunate that in the selection of officials who direct the policies and control the management of the leading patriotic societies the members have chosen men and women sound in judgement and deliberate in action, as well as patriotic purpose. There are always sinister interests which are ready, for partisan or selfish reasons, to make surreptitious use of large organizations such as these. Persons inspired by motives of that kind usually do not work in the open but accomplish their ends by secret creation of prejudice. Undoubtedly efforts of this nature were made in recent political campaigns but it is to the credit of all the well-established patriotic societies that none of them fell victim to the wiles of designing politicians. In the tense nervous strain of the after-war period it is easy to stir up antagonisms by merely pointing the accusing finger and whispering 'Pro-German' or 'Pro-British' or pro anything else. As a medium for conducting such an attack, a patriotic society would be a most potent agency and one susceptible of great wrong if improperly used. The Daughters of the American Revolution, the brother organization of similar name, the American Legion and other world war fraternalities may well congratulate themselves and their officers that they have kept free from injury that would follow injudicious action under the instigation of selfish or partisan interest."

The world was made safe for democracy, but Republicanism seems to be the safety deposit box.

THE SORROW OF HOME-COMING

Occasional a bearded man will just drop in t' town
An' polish up his spectacles an' sort o' look aroun'
Familiarlike, as if it wa'n't the first time he'd been here
An' look behind false faces on the folks that passes near,
Then blimey, he'll see a face he mebbe used t' know:
Afore he got the West idee—O, thirty years ago!

An' went away an' law-my-law, but don't their talkin' siz!
An' guess you'll find the burden of their reminiscen' is:
"What's come o' him?"

"What's come o' him?" you'll hear him ast, an' the boy that staid at home
Will sort o' jox his mem'ry up an' tell him wh't's become
Of this an' that an' t'other one, how some is hangin' on,
But most of them he used t' know have lifted their span, an' gone:
"What's come o' him?"—"What's come o' her?"—an' wheres the other at?

An' somethin' clogs his wizen up on ascertainin' that
The most of 'em is dead an' gone—until he scarcely dast
T' call t' mind the folks he knowed afore he left, ner ast:
"What's come o' him?"

An' more than likely that'll end his wanderin' about
The village streets, an' like as not he'll take the first train out
An' git away from old home town as fast as what he kin—
Away from saddened memories—an' git back West agin!
The village folks 'll wonder why he up an' went away
Afore they even had a chance t' shake his hand an' say They're glad t' see him back agin!
An' take him first an' last,
Won't realize the sadness in their question when they ast:
"WHAT'S COME O' HIM?"

LOCAL MENTION.

Maud Muller, on a summer's morn
Heard the toot of an auto horn.

She saw the Judge go whirling past,
"Geo!" said Maud, "he's going fast."

And then she thought of the sighs and tears
The Judge had caused her all these years.
"He's breaking the law" at that speed," quoth she,
"Ha! ha! ha! here's revenge for me!"

So she set her teeth, and ne'er e'en flinched.

While she took his number and had him pinched.

ford.

and needs your earnest co-operation.

—The fishermen have been rather active in the past few days. Several thing may be too weak from starvation to make its wants known.

Next Sunday is Whitsunday, and anniversary of the Day of Pentecost.
At the morning service there will be the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
Short sermon on the subject: "Can God revive His work?" All other services as usual.

BAPTIST CHURCH
Prayer meeting at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening; preaching service 10:30 Sunday morning and at 7:30 in the evening. Rev. D. L. Lloyd of Port Allegany, who has been preaching in the Baptist Church there, will occupy the pulpit in place of Rev.
Mack. A large attendance is desired.
The Young Peoples' Circle will not meet this week but will be postponed for two weeks.

Rev. Emil G. Winstadt will preach at the Swedish Mission Church next Sunday at 11:00 a.m. Special singing will be rendered at that service

NEWS from the WORLD of SPORTS

SMETHPORT WON BALL GAME SUNDAY

Smethport Baseballists Come From Behind and Grab Victory in Well Played Ball Game.

Baseballically speaking, the Smethport base ball club misused, abused and "threw the books" into their old rivals, East Smethport aggregation on the fair grounds last Sunday.

East Smethport had the game wrapped up in crimson paper, tied carefully with blue ribbon and was ready to take it home in a joy car when Manager Ross Knapp's true warriors began to wield a wicked punch at the East Smethport boys just after that fatal seventh innig.
Let it be told that East Smethport was on the map last Sunday in a well played base ball game with the score at goose eggs on both sides up until the seventh, with both pitchers working most effectively with the hits about even. At this time Feeler peeled one at Bob Hull with the bases choked that was traveling, the ball getting by him to short stop Thomas Ulysses Clark, which he juggled, dandy picking the little pill up and heaving it to the race track, all three men on the path scoring, thusly East Smethport 3 and Smethport 0.

Things looked very bad until the eighth when with the able assistance of J. Walker playing the second sack, bundled up an easy chance to retire a man at second base, succeeded in hitting the runner in the back with the ball, thus the bases were filled with one out for the first time during the game for Smethport.
With the aid of an error at short by A. Walker two runs came across and Smethport's stock went up.
They made four more runs in this and the ninth inning and all that East Smethport could get was one run, making the grand total 6 to 4 in favor of Smethport and the first game of the season was put on ice.

Heavy hitting was done by Paul Denning, Feeler and Tom Clark.
Considering that this was the first game of the season, all played well in the field there being only seven errors all told, three for East Smethport and 4 for Smethport. Pitcher Walker retired the side in the third and sixth innings respectively via the strike-out route.

This game gave the management a chance to find the weak spots in the team, therefore in next Sunday's game there should be picked a good formidable outfit to work against Galeton. The umpiring was fine and much appreciated by the crowd.
There were at least 10 men on the side lines that could umpire the game better than the man who had the game in charge—it could be suggested that all those who desire to officialize if they will please let it be known can have the indicator and try their luck at umpiring any time.
The umpiring was most fair indeed therefore why to ridicule the "umps" all the time.

Both catchers worked well in this game.

mary:

James Louis Odell Electrocuted at Sing Sing

Governor Miller Denied Appeal to Save Him And He Pays Extreme Penalty

James Louis Odell, husband of Pearl Odell, former Elmira girl, paid the penalty for the murder of Edward Kneip near Rochester last year. He wrote farewell letters to his wife and one to Captain Charles McNally who was a chum of his in Buffalo. He also wrote a letter to David L. Coleman, 39 North Main street of Wellsville, N. Y., of which The Miner has printed for its readers for this week, together with a striking half tone cut of the young man, taken while he was in the United States Naval Reserves. James Louis Odell served all through the world war with a good clean record. He was a much sought saxophone player and made many friends wherever he went or played.

The death sentence was imposed on James Louis Odell for the murder of Edward Kneip at Sing Sing prison, Ossining, N. Y., on Thursday night, April 23. Odell was accompanied by Rev. Dr. Anthony N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain at the prison, on the short walk from the death house to the chair. As he left his cell he called "Good-bye, boys," to the other 22 condemned men, who responded in chorus. Odell awaited his fate calmly. He slept from 8 p. m. until 10 p. m. Thursday night. The first shock was applied at 11:05 and nine minutes later he was dead.

Governor Miller denied the appeal to save his life. Odell was visited by Mrs. B. E. Arnold, a relative who brought him up from a child of 13 months. She remained in his cell several minutes on Wednesday, weeping bitterly over the young man's sad plight. Mr. David Coleman of Wellsville, N. Y., knew Odell for a number of years and he spoke the very best of the boy. He also knew Odell in Painted Post where he worked for Ingersoll & Rand Company. "At this time he boarded with a family by the name of William Durkinham. He always was a quite young man and not at all vicious as many have thought. Mr. Coleman said as did Captain Charles McNally. While in Buffalo Mr. McNally and to write to her and do whatever they could in her behalf of which McNally wrote him before he died stating that his over wish should be fulfilled just as he had requested.

When Warden Lawes asked the prisoner on Thursday when it was time for his last meal what he wished to select for dinner. Odell said:

"Give me the regular meal, I don't care for much to eat."
He was given real chops, boiled potatoes, stewed corn, bread, butter and coffee. He ate moderately, but Warden Lawes said he seemed somewhat different but kept himself well collected during his last hours. He was about 25 years old and rather short and weighed about 145 pounds and a good looking young man.

The following letters O'Dell wrote before he was electrocuted:
D. L. COLEMAN,
39 North Main street,
Wellsville, N. Y.,

Dear Pop:—Just a few words to you hoping you are well and in good health. Well Pop, I have not received any word from my attorneys or Albany as yet regarding my case, but at all times I am hoping for the best.

Well Pop if in case I should have to leave this world and pass on into the next. I believe now as I always have, that it will be a case of going before a higher Judge. The Supreme Court of all and God will be Judge. I am sure there will be no errors there when I stand before that Bar of Justice.

I want to thank you Pop for your friendship and kindness and it was highly appreciated. I wish you and your family success and happiness through life, thanking you again. I am very sincerely yours,
JAMES LOUIS O'DELL.
Regards to all Jimmie.

CHARLES McNALLY,
32 W. Fassett Street,
Wellsville, N. Y.

Dear Charles:—Just a few words to you in answer to your ever kind and welcome letter of April 20th, and I was very pleased to hear from you as ever, your letter was very interesting and encouraging to me and what you have done for me is highly appreciated, and I know you and your wife will keep an eye on Mrs. O'Dell for her good.

Well Charles, I have not received any word from Albany regarding my case, of course we can hope for the best at all times, and I pray God for the chance to live for my wife and baby for I love them dearly.

Well all I can do is hope and if it comes to the worst why I will remember as you say, "My ways are not thy ways," and all I can do now is wish you and Mrs. McNally also your little son the very best of success and happiness through life, and with my best wishes to you and family. I will close for this time, hoping for the best at all times. I am as ever very sincerely yours,

JAMES LOUIS O'DELL.

BLOODHOUNDS TO BE USED BY SEARCHERS

Woods and Abandoned Marble Quarries About Proctor, Vermont, are Scoured and Streams Dragged Without Result—Missing Young Woman Graduate of Boston University and Social Secretary to Miss Emily Proctor, Daughter of Former Senator Redfield Proctor

Proctor, Vermont, May 5.—Hundreds of citizens of this and neighboring communities searched vainly today for Miss Marion Butterworth, Boston University graduate and social secretary to Miss Emily Proctor of this town, who has been missing since Tuesday night.

When the searchers reported tonight that they had scoured woods and abandoned marble quarries and dragged streams without finding trace of Miss Butterworth, preparations were made to continue the search tomorrow with blood hounds. Printed descriptions of the girl have been sent throughout the countryside and a reward has been offered for her discovery.

Relatives and friends of Miss Butterworth could assign no reason for her disappearance.

Miss Marion C. Butterworth, mentioned in the preceding dispatch, is a sister of James F. Butterworth, superintendent of schools of Bradford. Mr. Butterworth received a telegram yesterday morning notifying him of his sister's disappearance, and two telegrams Saturday evening, one from his brother and the other from his brother-in-law, appraising him of the progress of the search.

Missing Since Tuesday

The first telegram informed Mr. Butterworth that his sister had been missing since Tuesday, and that a search was being made for her. A telegram last evening from his brother, Ralph N. Butterworth of New York, a federal official, stated that no trace of Miss Butterworth had been found and that streams were being dragged in the vicinity of Proctor. A telegram of similar purport also came from Mr. Butterworth's brother-in-law.

Miss Butterworth is secretary to Miss Emily Proctor, daughter of the late Redfield Proctor, former United States Senator from Vermont. When last seen Tuesday evening, she was in the best health and spirits. In the absence of any possible motive for voluntary disappearance, it is feared that she is a victim of foul play.

The theory of foul play, with robbery as a possible motive, would seem to gain strength from Miss Butterworth's connection with Miss Proctor, a woman of much wealth and prominence. Her association with Miss Proctor also offers a slender chance that Miss Butterworth is being held by kidnappers who hope to extort money from Miss Proctor. There is also, of course, the unhappy possibility that she was waylaid by a depraved type of assailant.

Accident is Possible

The configuration of the land in the vicinity of Proctor, Vt., which is about five miles from Rutland, makes it well within the range of reasonable belief that Miss Butterworth was an accident victim. Near the Proctor home there is a steep gorge, and the thick woods in that section are seamed with ravines and abandoned marble quarries. The Associated Press dispatch published above indicates that the searchers are examining these quarries on the theory of an accidental fall, and are dragging streams in connection with the possibility of accidental drowning.

Miss Butterworth is 33 years old and a graduate of Boston University and the secretarial department of Simmons College. She is an attractive and accomplished young woman of exceptional poise and balance. Her relatives and friends are at a loss for any explanation of her disappearance other than foul play or accident. Mrs. J. P. Butterworth saw Miss Butterworth in Boston only three weeks ago. At that time she was in the best of health and spirits.

The missing young woman is the youngest sister of Superintendent Butterworth, and made her home with him during her young girlhood. Naturally he is grief-stricken over her disappearance. He is in telegraph communication with members of his family who are at the scene of the search.

After obtaining facts as to the disappearance from Mr. Butterworth, The Bradford Era queried the Associated Press last night for latest information from Proctor, Vermont, in connection with the case. The response, received shortly after midnight, precedes this article. The purport thereof was communicated to Mr. Butterworth.

The Miner was notified today that Miss Marion C. Butterworth had been found in an old marble quarry near Proctor, Vermont. There was no other details regarding the cause of Miss Butterworth's death, but it is thought that it was accidental. The water in the quarry is about a hundred feet deep. Divers have been sent for and an effort made to determine whether Miss Butterworth was drowned or not.

WINDOW GLASS SITUATION

There has been a slight increase in the demand for window glass during the past week, buying trade evidently believing that they can round out their stock to some extent and be protected by the 90-day guarantee clause put in effect by manufacturers. The increase, however, is mainly brought about by small orders. It is generally believed that there will not be many fair sized orders placed until the atmosphere has been cleared of threatened strikes by different building trades throughout the country which are making an effort to retain the high wage rate in effect and there by being placed in a preferred class. There is no indication that consumers will change their policy of limited buying or that financial institutions in loaning money to finance building propositions until all trades have shared in the reduction of building costs. Construction work in the larger cities is practically at a standstill while in the smaller towns there is a fair volume of building reported.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. closed down its No. 11 plant at Mt. Vernon, O., during the past week for an indefinite period. Their No. 12 plant at Clarkesburg, W. Va., also closed down for hot repairs which will require about two weeks' time to complete. This places all of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company's tanks in the non-producing column—[National Glass Budget.

Is An Egg Ever Too Fresh?

This hen has produced a mighty good food product—a strictly fresh egg. She is proud of the fact, and is doing some very effective advertising. Time was when people were not so critical about eggs, and the question whether an egg had been laid for three or four days or a couple of weeks wasn't very important; but in these times strictly fresh eggs bring a great big premium.

HOW ABOUT ROASTED COFFEE?

Green coffee improves with age, but roasted coffee, like fresh eggs, is never again so good as when fresh roasted. There is just as much difference between fresh roasted coffee and stale coffee as there is between newly laid eggs and those several weeks old. For twenty-five years we have had first-class facilities for blending, roasting and packing coffee. Our best known brands, HEART'S DELIGHT and GOLD CROSS, have been giving satisfaction to coffee drinkers for a generation.
We have the only first-class coffee roasting establishment in this section of the state, and our brands of coffee are always VERY MUCH FRESHER and therefore BETTER, than those roasted in New York or Boston. Ask your grocer for our package coffee.

'Old Gordon Graham's Sayings.'
I don't know anything that a young business man ought to keep more entirely to himself than his distastes, unless it is his likes.

Remember that when you're in the right you can afford to keep your temper, and that when you're wrong you can't afford to lose it.

SUMMER IS HERE.
Summer is officially here.
The calendar may dispute that statement and specify some date in the latter part of June.

But ask any of the fans who per-aded over to the fair grounds and saw that ball game Sunday and they will tell you whether summer is here or not. Just ask Jim Quirk—he was there.

With the pitcher on the mound, the batsman at the plate minded to outdo George Kelly of the New York Giants, two good teams matched and the fans in the stand, it's summer—and you can't convince any base ball devotee to the contrary.
And who wants to?
